UVOD IN DOBRODOŠLI

Dragi gostje, športniki in podporniki karateja,

V veliko čast mi je, da lahko povabim vse tekmovalce; tako slovenske kot tudi mednarodne na že tradicionalno tekmovanje Maribor Open.

Slovenija postaja vodilna organizatorica dobrih tekmovanj v evropskem in svetovnem karateju, kar se kaže v vse številčnejši mednarodni udeležbi. Tako vsako leto gostimo tekmovalce iz vseh celinskih zvez.

Tovrstna tekmovanja so za domače tekmovalce izjemnega pomena, saj se lahko na eni strani naši vrhunski tekmovalci pomerijo z evropsko in svetovno elito, na drugi strani pa lahko mlajši tekmovalci spoznajo mednarodni karate.

Maribor Open je tekmovanje s tradicijo in verjamem, da bo tudi letos ponudil dobro organizacijo in izjemne boje.

Vsem tekmovalcem želim veliko zdravja, moči, spoštovanja in veliko športnih uspehov.

Naj zmagajo najboljši.

Borut Stroj in
Predsednik Karate zveze Slovenija

Dear guests, athletes and supporters of karate,

It is a great honor for me to invite Slovenian and International competitors to traditional Maribor Open competition.

Slovenia has become the leading organizer of great Karate competitions in European and in World perspective. All of this reflected in the increasing number of karate competitors from foreign Karate Klubs. Every year we host competitors from all continental associations.

Such competitions are of great importance for domestic competitors, since on one hand our top competitors can compete with the European and world elite, and on the other hand, younger competitors can get to know international karate.

Maribor Open is a competition with tradition and I believe that this year will also offer good organization and exceptional fights.

I wish all competitors health, power, respect and a lot of sports success. May the best win.

Borut Stroj in
President of Karate Federation of Slovenia

Dragi prijatelji športa.

V veliko zadovoljstvo nam je, da vas ob 40. letnici uspešnega delovanja karate kluba Kovinar Maribor povabimo na 8. mednarodno tekmovanje v karateju.

Tako smo ustvarili desetine reprezentantov, ki so osvajali medalje na največjih mednarodnih tekmovanjih in je s tem klub postal prepoznaven daleč izven naših meja.

Organizatorji bomo naredili vse, da bo potek tekmovanja, sojenje in gostoljubje na najvišjem nivoju.

Dobrodošli na 8. Maribor Open 2018, ki ga bo odprl dr. Andrej Fištravec, župan mesta Maribor, ki se letos ponaša z nazivom »Evropsko mesto športa«.

Direktor turnirja in
Predsednik Karate kluba Kovinar Maribor

Dear friends of sports.

We are very pleased to invite you to the 8th international karate event marking the 40th anniversary of successful work of the Karate Club Kovinar Maribor.

In these years, we have created many generations of karateists, starting from the first awkward initial moves to top-level technically skilled competitors. That's how we created dozens of national team members who won medals at the biggest international competitions, and with this, the club became recognizable far beyond our borders.

The organizers will do everything possible to ensure that the course of the competition, judging and hospitality are at the highest level.

Welcome to the 8th Maribor Open 2018, which will be opened by dr. Andrej Fištravec, mayor of the city of Maribor, which this year is entitled "European city of sport".

Mirislav Damjanovič, univ. dipl. ing.
Tournament director and
Chairman of Karate club Kovinar Maribor

WELCOME TO MARIBOR

About Maribor and Tourist Destination

Dear visitors, hello and welcome! Or ZDRAVO, as we say in Slovene!

Maribor is nowadays firmly positioned on the tourist map of the world as:

- the European Capital of Culture 2012
- the European Capital of Youth 2013
- the European City of Sport 2018
- Festival Lent with Folk Art festival
- one of the TOP 10 tourist destinations in the world in the opinion of various media in the past few years;
- the centre of one of the fastest growing destinations in Slovenia;
- the city of the oldest vine in the world, attracting many visitors from all over the world to the Old Vine House.

Maribor is wonderfully nestled in the embrace of the green Pohorje Mountains on one side and the picturesque wine-growing hills on the other. The city is located by the Drava River and in its centre grows the oldest – over 450 years old – vine in the world. Can you imagine this? This is definitely the most important wine-growing area in Slovenia. The beautiful plant of respectable age is certainly one of the many reasons why the Maribor – Pohorje, Slovenian Styria destination is worth a visit. All the wonderful features contribute to the well-being of local people and we sincerely believe that you will also feel great here.

Short history of the city of Maribor

There, where already in antiquity an important traffic crossroads between Celeia and Falvia Solva originated on one side and Ptuj and Carinthia on the other is today the second largest city in Slovenia, Maribor. A modest site from the Early Stone Age, an urn burial ground, a Celtic site and the Roman villa Rustic bear witness to the oldest traces of settlement in the region of the present-day city.

Sometime between the years 1147 and 1164 margrave Ottokar III of Styria built a fortress on a hill, that today is called Piramida. The fortress itself was literally named “Fortress in the borderland” in German “Burg in der Mark” or simply Marchburch. At that time, there were already farmhouses underneath the fortress. The small settlement grew into a market and afterwards a city, first mentioned as such in 1209 and 1254 respectively. Soon after the town's people began to build a two kilometre long wall, which surrounded the old town. The wall was later additionally fortified with defence towers. The Barrel tower, Tscheligi tower, Jewish tower and the Water Tower helped to preserve the town even against Turkish invasions and still today reveal many a legend.

In Maribor in the Middle Ages there lived a large and economically very strong Jewish community! They built for those times a large and mighty synagogue, which due to its characteristics was exceptional in the Central European space.

The town, which was built of stone and wood, was neither spared of fire nor plague! At the end of the 17th century the plague killed a fifth of the inhabitants and at this time Maribor got one of the most beautiful cultural monuments in the town, Mary's or Plague column.

Slovene Bishop Anton Martin Slomšek is a man who endeavoured to bring about national awakening! With the transfer of the seat of the Lavantine diocese from St Andraž to Maribor, in the year 1859, the Church of St John the Baptist, in what today is called Slomšek square, became a cathedral.

MARIBOR OPEN 2018

Construction of the Southern railways from Vienna to Trieste in 1846 brought fast industrial development to the town. Once a small town it began to quickly expand and with the expansion of the town traffic also increased. It became necessary to build new bridges and it was precisely these that trampled the medieval plan of the old part of the town, called Lent. The river Drava was an important traffic artery already in Roman times. Annually 700 small cargo boats called šajks - and 1200 rafts docked at the Lent river port. Beside timber they also transported wine, iron products and textiles all the way from Carinthia (Koroška) to Belgrade and on to the Black Sea. Once a rapid river today it whispers about its important role for the prosperity of the town. Just a few metres from the river is the Old Vine, the oldest grape vine in the world, which after 400 years still bears grapes and as queen of all grape vines is a potent reminder of the past.

Several new countries were set up from the Austro-Hungarian Empire after the First World War. General Rudolf Maister was the Slovene general and poet that outline and defended the today northern border of Slovenia. The stormy years during the First World War had a decisive impact also on the later development of the town. A strong textile industry appeared that continued to grow in the following decades. With the Second World War on the horizon Maribor lived in fear of the coming military power. It was 6th April 1941, when the former Yugoslavia fell under the military fire. All development and also industry was stopped in the town. During the war the town was almost levelled and the consequences was felt decades after the end of the war. After the Second World War Maribor registered leaps and bounds in development. Companies in the period of self-governing socialism employed people mostly according to social criteria and created a new age working class.

With a reduction in jobs in industry Maribor redirects into the accelerated development of tourism and other service activities. The town with 110.000 inhabitants has become the university, economic, cultural, traffic and tourist centre of northeast Slovenia.

Short history of Pohorje

Before approximately fourteen centuries ago our ancestors arrived from the Balkan peninsula and the north and in front of them saw the mountain chain, which they named with a unique, general name in Slovene toponymics – simply Pohorje.

In historical documents dating from 1230 we can trace the name “supania Pocher”, which is undoubtedly the original topographic meaning of Pohorje.

Pohorje prides itself as being the only magmatic metamorphic mountain chain in Slovenia and appropriately so are its ecological characteristics, relief formation, waters and landscape characteristics. On an impermeable stone foundation it formed in a characteristic relief ridge and heaped peaks and the densest system of surface water in Slovenia. The complex geographical region of Pohorje is diverse with natural heritage. Its exceptionalness and distinctiveness is shown in flat land and peat moors and small lakes, canes in marble and tonalite, tallest Slovene pine trees (Sgermov's pine tree), remains the primeval forest Šumik, site of magmatic rock (tonalite, chislakite and marble).
